Force puts extra police on streets

ADDITIONAL police will be patrolling the streets of Haverhill as a precaution against disorder and to reassure people concerned about the rioting that has broken out across the UK.

Suffolk Police sent a unit of 32 officers to London on Monday and deployed further staff on Tuesday afternoon and overnight to help arrest, identify or deter people from rioting and looting in the capital.

The force said it will have significant numbers of police on duty in Suffolk, despite the mission to London, and added that officers will maintain a presence day and night.

Additional officers and PCSOs will be making precautionary patrols in some of Suffolk's towns, including Haverhill, to provide high-visibility reassurance.

They will be visiting businesses, community venues and other locations to give advice.

Marshall said: "We are working hard to ensure the county remains safe and we have sufficient trained police officers on duty to deal with any situation should it arise."

The force is trying to put rumours to rest which have appeared on social networking sites about disorder taking place around Suffolk.

ACC Marshall said: "We would like to inform residents of Suffolk that there is no unrest here in the county. We understand how distressing these rumours must be to residents of Suffolk and can assure people there is no substance in them."

The force has advised retailers concerned about the safety of their business to check regularly for suspicious activity outside their building, to identify areas vulnerable to forced entry and to ensure CCTV is working properly.

The force has urged parents to ask their children where they are and who they are with.

Information about possible daytime disorder should be reported to Suffolk Police on 01473 613745 – and in an emergency, dial 999.

Charity cyclists head out on the road to help more worthy causes

Anniversary on wheels

CHURCH members Michael and Claudette Lyons are getting on their bikes for a good cause again – 30 years after their first sponsored bicycle ride.

The couple, both 67, lived in Lakenheath when they rode in the inaugural Suffolk Historic Churches Trust Bike Ride.

Now they are taking part in the latest event, to raise money for St Mary's church, Haverhill, on Saturday, September 10.

Mrs Lyons, who recently retired from her nursing job, said they had lived in Haverhill for 28 years and this would be the fourth time they had ridden in the event, although they had sponsored other in the years inbetween.

She said: "We don't cycle every day but we do still try to cycle when we can."

"We just wanted to help the church really and it is a nice day out and a chance to visit other churches."

"It is so versatile – you can walk if you choose and you can just visit the churches in town or venture further. These churches are all old buildings which need oodles of money spent on them."

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

"We all want them there, even if it is only for weddings and funerals, so everyone has a vested interest in keeping them."

"I would encourage everyone to join in – it is a very enjoyable day out."

The trust makes grants to historic Suffolk churches and chapels of all denominations towards repair and restoration costs.

The money raised by each participant – walkers can take part as well – is shared equally between the trust and the church named by the cyclist.

Six Haverhill churches and chapels are among 730 Suffolk places of worship open for the bike ride that day.

They are Downs Baptist Chapel, St Mary's, the Old Independent, Haverhill Methodist, West End Congregational and St Felix Roman Catholic.

Essex and Cambridgeshire have sponsored rides on the same day so cyclists can visit churches in nearby villages.

For more information and sponsor forms, contact Marty House on (01440) 762570.

Classmates get send-off from mayor

THREE classmates have departed on an adventure of a lifetime – cycling more than 1,000 miles from Cambridge to Copenhagen.

Marcus Turner, 17, James Robson, 16, and Max Monteith, 17, set off from King's Parade last Wednesday for their epic trip to the Danish capital, raising funds for youth disability charity Whizz Kidz.

The Oundle School boarders have already raised about £3,500 and hope to raise enough to buy one wheelchair – around £5,900.

They were planning to reach Clare, where Marcus lives, before catching the ferry from Harwich to Holland, and travelling through northern Germany to Denmark.

James, from Copenhagen, and Max, from London, met Cambridge mayor Cllr Ian Nimmo-Smith with Marcus before they set off.

Marcus said: "It's something very worthwhile because we will be changing a life if we raise sufficient funds, and it's also a great adventure to share with mates."

Good luck: Cambridge mayor Ian Nimmo-Smith meets two of three boys who will be doing charity bike ride next week, Marcus Turner, left, and James Robson.

Brothers unite for valley trek

Miles to go: Austin and Aeron.

Picture: Keith Jones 760148

TWO brothers got on their bikes to help raise cash for the charity where they help out as volunteers.

Aeron Taylor, 28, and Austin, 27, left the Sue Ryder shop in Jubilee Walk, Haverhill, on Monday, August 8 to follow the 25-mile Colne Valley Walk route to Wixoe, Baythorne End, Clare, Hundon, Kedington and back to Haverhill.

Their effort is part of the charity's Ride for Ryder summer activity campaign, encouraging people to take part in its organised rides open to people living near any of its 350 shops, or to organise their own events.

The aim is to raise a total of £150,000 to boost the charity's work supporting people living with life-changing or incurable illnesses.

The Haverhill shop is holding a tombola for the fund and also holding a sale on new goods and donated clothing over the next two weeks. Anyone interested in finding out more should visit the shop, phone 0800 050 1953 or visit www.sueryder.org/rideforryder.

Damage done to Ford Fiesta

DAMAGE was caused to a car left on a driveway overnight. In Primrose Hill, Haverhill, between 5.30pm on Friday, August 5 and 2pm on Saturday, the plastic panel between the front and rear nearside doors of a red Ford Fiesta was removed. The culprit did not get into the car and nothing was stolen. Calls in relation to the incident should be made to Sgt Sarah Bartley at the Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Brick thrown through window

A BRICK was thrown through the ground-floor window of a house. The damage was done at about 2.35am on Monday at a house in Dalham Place, Haverhill. Anyone with information about the incident should contact Haverhill police on (01284) 774100.

Tools stolen from van

TOOLS were stolen from a van parked overnight. The theft happened in Cavendish Road, Clare, between 5.30pm on Wednesday, August 3 and 7.30am last Thursday, when raiders got into a white Vauxhall Combi van by unknown means. Calls in relation to the incident should be made to the Crime Investigation Bureau (CIB) on (01473) 613500 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Vandals strike at business

VANDALS smashed a window at business premises on an industrial estate at the weekend. They struck in Hollands Road, Haverhill, between 4pm on Friday, August 5 and 3pm on Sunday. Calls in relation to the incident should be made to the Crime Investigation Bureau (CIB) on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Fishing gear and booze theft

FISHING equipment and alcohol was stolen from a garage. Two garages in a block at Chelmer Road, Haverhill were broken into between 4.30pm on Wednesday, August 3 and 10am on Thursday. Fishing equipment, a quantity of alcohol and paperwork in plastic containers were stolen from one of the garages. Nothing was stolen from the other. Anyone with information about the burglaries should contact Haverhill police on (01284) 774100.

Toddlers step out in style!

Children help raise hundreds

UNDER-FIVES took a toddle around their local park on Sunday to help raise money for less fortunate children.

The Big Toddle is a national sponsored walk for little ones which raises money for Barnardo's – and 17 children took part in the event in Haverhill's East Town Park, organised in association with the Weekly News.

This year's event had a wild animal theme. A total of £328 was raised for the charity.

Organiser Louise Cohen said: "It was a very good turnout and everyone had a good time."

"We even had a young boy called Kieran Miles who was all the way from Spain and was staying with his grandmother."

All children taking part were awarded with a special certificate and medal. Children were then entertained by local cheerleading group Panther Poppets, with a taster workout. Cinema tickets from Cineworld were donated as prizes.

First prize was awarded to Melissa Harding for the best dressed animal in a pink fluffy bunny costume, while Eva Connolly was chosen as the best dancer in the group.

Following the Panther Poppets, some families stayed on for a picnic and enjoyed drinks supplied by Tesco.

Couple 'assaulted' after row between dog owners

AN argument between dog owners led to one couple being assaulted.

The incident happened in Chalkstone Way, Haverhill at about 3.45pm on Sunday when a couple were walking their terrier dog on the recreation ground.

A white boxer dog with a couple and four children approached them. A verbal exchange took place between both couples. The man with the boxer dog is said to have pushed the couple walking the terrier and tried to antagonise them.

The man is described as white, aged about 30, 6ft tall, of large build, bald and with a light brown goatee beard. He was wearing a pink t-shirt and cream shorts and was possibly driving a silver people carrier.

The woman he was with is described as white, aged about 30, 5ft 7in, of medium build, with shoulder-length dark hair and wearing a sun dress.

Calls about the incident should be made to PC Laura Harris at the Haverhill Neighbourhood Response Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Have a say on neighbourhood

TWO groups are holding their first joint forum next month – and are encouraging residents to go along and suggest how their neighbourhoods could be improved.

The first joint Police Safer Neighbourhood Team and ONE Haverhill group public forum will be held on Monday, September 5 at 7pm at Burton End Community Primary School, School Lane, Haverhill.

It will be an opportunity to raise any issues or concerns that residents have within their areas. The agenda will not be restricted to policing issues.

The priorities and issues agreed in the meeting will be taken forward by representatives from the Safer Neighbourhood Team and ONE Haverhill.

The ONE Haverhill group has replaced the Haverhill Partnership: its members include representatives of health organisations, businesses, councils, Havebury Housing, Abbeycroft Leisure and the voluntary sector.

Tea and scones will be on offer at church

SCONES, jam and cream are on the menu at St Mary's Church, Sturmer, on Saturday from 2 pm to 5 pm.

They will be served in the peaceful surroundings of the churchyard, at a cost of £2.50, to include a cup of tea.

Church members look forward to welcoming as many hungry people as possible.

Festival serves up fun

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

LEARNING African dancing, cheerleading and water zorbing were just some of the activities to try at a children's festival.

A day of free family fun was on offer at the third Haverhill Children's Festival, which took place at the Recreation Ground yesterday.

Among the entertainers were musicians, magicians, monsters and acrobats.

There were workshops for African drumming, street dancing and cheerleading, as well as art and craft activities, model-making, 'tattoos' and graffiti, plus a bouncy castle, giant slide, sports with Abbeycroft Leisure and circus skills.

There was also a chance to try water zorbing, with children getting into large, air-tight plastic balls to manoeuvre around a water tank.

The event is part of a series of Wednesday offerings for families in the town, with a picnic in the East town Park on August 17, an ice rink on the Plaza on August 24 and a climbing wall at Haverhill Rovers on August 31.

What a ride: Chloe Dockery, 11, and brother Oliver, 4, take to two wheels, right. Above, AJ James gets himself in a tight spot – all in good fun and left, Oliver Bradbury, 4, tucks into an ice cream.

Ex-councillor hits out over shop plan

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

FORMER councillor Mick Graham has accused members of Haverhill Town Council of abusing their position over proposals to buy a town centre shop to lease out.

Mr Graham, of Quendon Place, a former member of the town council, said he was furious that the authority is considering a plan to buy an empty shop and rent it out at a lower rate in a bid to boost the town centre.

Mr Graham said: "I think it is a foolish idea. I am sure they mean well, but I don't think they have thought it through very well. How can they justify their council tax rise when they are talking of doing this with our money? I think people need to speak out against it before it becomes policy."

"It is not just shops we need, it is putting money in people's pockets. Free car parking would encourage people to come out and spend and a drop in council tax.

"Why can't we have one council instead of three and cut back on top-tier staff who earn up to £200,000?"

"It is senseless we are in a recession and this kind of thing will make things worse, not better." Haverhill town clerk Gordon Mussett said the plan still had to be agreed by the town council, but could help attract new shops by reducing rent by about a third, at no cost to the taxpayer. He added: "It is in the proposed plan because of public concern about the retail offer in the High Street. The town council can try to encourage more people to the town centre by staging events and having attractions, but currently has little influence over market rents or national non-domestic rates.

"During recent public meetings, residents have raised their concerns over the lack of variety of shops, and the increasing number of empty shops."

"Rents are set by landlords, most of whom are large organisations with no affinity for the town. And the rateable value of commercial premises is determined by the levels of rent landlords are asking or achieving. While this situation exists there will continue to be a poor retail offer in the town."

"There will be a cash benefit to the town council because the rent return after, say, 10 years will exceed the loan repayments, so residents will benefit. Yes, there still has to be a willingness on the part of retailers to want to trade in Haverhill, but the belief is that lower market rents will make the choice of Haverhill a more attractive one."

Cat charity cuts adoption fee to help ease crisis

REDUCED adoption fees are being introduced by a cat rescue group to cope with a continuing influx of cats and kittens needing homes.

The Haverhill Branch of Cats Protection recently appealed for homes for kittens, many of them rescued after being dumped in the Haverhill area.

Kornelia Teelucksingh, welfare officer for the Haverhill branch, said: "All the appeals have had a very good response. We are now struggling as people are not adopting cats."

The group is currently offering their cats and kittens at reduced adoption fees. Their cats are vaccinated against cat flu, enteritis and feline leukaemia, identichipped, neutered and checked for any health problems by a veterinary surgeon. The special offer also includes a neutering voucher for kittens.

Cats Protection, the oldest charity dedicated to cats, urges people to adopt from them because they are struggling to cope and some branches have had to close their waiting lists. The branch has more than 20 cats and kittens available for adoption. The charity is also in urgent need of more fosterers to look after kittens awaiting new homes. The branch is responsible for all costs involved in fostering all the fosterer needs to give lots of tender loving care.

Call Haverhill Cats Protection on 0845 371 9599 or email contactcats@aol.com. All cats available for homing can be viewed on their website www.stourvalley.cats.org.uk.

Last week, the Weekly News reported that the RSPCA was struggling with an increase in the number of cats dumped in the area.

Record crowd flocks to Market Square for show

MORE than 4,000 people enjoyed a free open-air tribute band concert – including one female streaker who was arrested.

The crowd on Saturday night at Haverhill Market Square was believed to be the biggest yet for such an event, which have been going for more than 20 years.

Gordon Mussett, Haverhill town clerk, estimated the crowd at between 4,000 and 4,500 people. They who enjoyed Tribute Chix, singing hits by Sugababes, Lady Gaga and The Saturdays, followed by The Greatest, a tribute to Take That and Robbie Williams.

Mr Mussett confirmed that one reveller had taken her top off and was promptly arrested by police. He said: "It is not the sort of thing the town council would condone; it is a family event. It was certainly the biggest crowd we have had, with a lot more Europeans present than previously. We heard a lot of Polish and Portuguese being spoken."

"All of the free events the town council has put on recently have been very well supported and it could be partly a result of the recession. I think it also just happened to be a nice evening and we had teenagers starting to congregate on the square from about 5.30pm. It was very encouraging to see that number of people and we hope for just as many at the next one on August 27.

"We are also holding a lot of free events for children this year to help keep them occupied during the summer holidays."

The next tribute night, starting at 8pm, will feature a tribute to the Jackie Generation with hits from the 1950s, 60s and 70s from Sing Out Sister, plus Jade Donno, local finalist from Open Mic 2010.

Bullying must be stopped

Sir, In response to Evelyn Faunch's email "what wicked fun we had", (Letters, Weekly News, August 4) I have only this to say – yes, it must have been great fun for you bullies and I bet you had a good laugh at other unfortunate's expense too.

I remember those days when I spent seven months saving the money I earned every morning doing a newspaper round so as to pay for a posh new racing-style bike. I had used it only twice when bullies like you stole the front light and smashed the rear light because they couldn't get it off my bike. They then bent the front wheel. Oh what a laugh they had!

Good old days? There was little good about them I can tell you.

I, too, despair at people complaining about the crime and anti-social behaviour one minute and then complaining when our police officers try to deal with that the next minute.

I do agree that anybody being dealt with as a minor should not have that on record for ever, as there is no doubt that they will eventually grow up and moderate their activities to bring them in line with society.

What I do not agree with is that this is society gone mad. This is society at last trying to deal with problems at an early stage in an attempt at reducing the more serious crimes at a later stage.

There is nothing funny or fun about stealing. To think that a lady with a lifetime of experience could believe that activity was fun is terrible and does not teach our youngsters anything but an anti-social attitude to other people's property.

Yes, I as a kid played Knock Up Ginger but I grew out of that, as all it really did was annoy those affected and that did not give me any real satisfaction.

I agree we do not need to over-criminalise youngsters but we must stop any form of bullying, theft or anti-social behaviour while it is a minor problem or our police forces will continue to have major problems to deal with. We all have to learn that crime is not right.

Mick Smith

Riverbank tale ends in best tradition

THE East Town Park, with its trees and its very own riverbank, was the perfect venue for the Cambridge Touring Theatre Company's latest production of The Wind in the Willows. Stealing our hearts from the start was bumbling Mole and his slightly wittier friend

REVIEW

The Wind in the Willows

Ratty. They, together with Toad, the Weasels and Badger all took us through an adventure with plenty of audience participation.

With its best turn-out of outdoor theatre in Haverhill to date, the audience at East Town Park were treated to great acting and singing and fun poking at certain individuals too.

The rain in the final 15 minutes of the performance did nothing to dampen spirits and ended on a high as Toad escaped from his prison cell only to find that the Weasels had moved into Toad Hall in his absence.

But far from throwing them out, friendships were formed and, in true theatre tradition, everyone lived happily ever after.

Join CAB fight against scams

VICTIMS who have lost money though scams – and others who have avoided them – are being urged to join forces to help prevent such crimes.

Suffolk West Citizens Advice Bureau is launching a campaign to stamp out common fraud and scams, and foil scammers offering dodgy deals which cost people billions of pounds every year.

The CAB is urging people to take part in a quick and simple anonymous online survey to find out what scammers are up to in the area and which scams local people most want to see action against.

The survey highlights 10 common scams ranging from bogus job ads to phantom flats and fake lottery wins. It also asks about scams which trade on cold-calling and ask for upfront fees for goods and services which fail to materialise, including loans and debt management, building work and event tickets.

Some fraudsters even manage to extract bank card details from the people they target and go on to help themselves to money from their accounts.

Haverhill branch manager

Stephanie O'Donoghue said: "Fraudulent offers or deals – scams – cost people billions of pounds every year and cause untold misery and distress.

"Some of the scammers are very cunning and can catch out even the most experienced consumers. We want to do something to foil the scammers. We also want to be able to inform Trading Standards about sharp practices targeting local people, so that they have the information they need to crack down effectively on scammers.

"That's why we're urging people to take part in our survey, share their own experiences, and join forces with us to beat scams and fraud."

Diet team weigh in with relay run cash

SLIMMERS are celebrating putting on pounds instead of losing them – by raising almost £15,000 for a cancer charity at a Relay for Life event.

Members of Rosemary Conley Diet and Fitness classes in Haverhill, Bury St Edmunds, Halstead and Newmarket won the cup for the most money raised at the event held at Ickworth Park, near Bury St Edmunds. A team of 42 members camped out in the park so that they could keep at least three people on the track around the rotunda from noon one day to 9am the next morning.

Karen Perkins, leader of the classes, said they had raised £4,383 in cash and members provided 458 donation bags, which raised another £10,534 for Cancer Research UK. It was the third time the event has been held, but the first time that the Rosemary Conley Club has entered a team.

Karen said: "I had hoped for about £3,000, but to raise so much was amazing. It was all down to the generosity of the members.

"The 42 of us in the team had a brilliant time, but we would not have raised a fraction of the money without the members who supported us.

"We had about 14 stalls on the go, it was really manic.

"We were absolutely thrilled to win the cup, it was the icing on the cake, especially as it was the first time we had entered it. We worked really hard over the last few months, but it was really worth it.

"We did the last hour cheerleading and it was really good fun. I would like to say a really big thank-you to everyone who supported us and we will definitely be doing it again next year."

Darts players aims to hit charity bullseye in bid to help hospice

TWO darts players are targeting funds for a charity in memory of a departed friend.

When Alan Yates and Brian Marlow heard about the care Valerie Stanford received at a hospice before she passed away in June, they decided to dedicate a darts competition to her memory.

And now, the pair, who play at Haverhill Snooker and Bowl in Chalkstone Way are holding an open knockout competition on Sunday, August 21, with money raised going to St Nicholas Hospice Care.

Brian said: "Our team is part of the Haverhill Summer League, which is already supporting the hospice.

"But we wanted to do something more to help a local charity that a lot of people have had contact with."

Colin – Valerie's husband – will be at the event and will supply the trophies. Ian Norris, hospice community fundraiser, said: "Holding this tournament in Valerie's memory is a wonderful gesture. The hospice is grateful to Alan and Brian for organising the event."

Taking aim: Alan Yates and Brian Marlow are holding a competition.

The Valerie Stanford Random Pairs Competition is open to players of any age and standard. Pairs will be drawn randomly on the day, while there is also a singles competition. Pairs entry costs £3 per person and singles is £5.

Local businesses have also got involved by donating further rewards for the victors, as well as raffle prizes. To find out more or to donate a prize, contact Haverhill Snooker and Bowl on (01440) 707774.

Opening doors on local heritage

BUILDINGS and outdoor attractions not normally accessible to the public will be opening their doors for free next month.

This year's Heritage Open days run from Thursday, September 8 to Sunday, September 11. There are a variety of places to visit and things to do in the borough of St Edmundsbury.

New for 2011 is the Lackford and West Stow tour. Take a trip in a free coach around Lackford lakes, with its fascinating wildlife habitats, Fullers Mill and its enchanting seven-acre garden, and West Stow Anglo Saxon Village, where people can discover how the first English people lived their lives.

Also new on the programme is a lecture by Sheila Reed, from Bury St Edmunds Record Office, on 200 years of a Bury property and an illustrated talk called Behind the pipes about the new Cathedral organ. And there is a new opportunity to see what goes on in the St Edmundsbury Magistrates' Court.

For more details at the Tourist Information Centre on Angel Hill, call (01284) 764667, or email tic@stedsb.gov.uk. Details are also available on www.stedmundsbury.gov.uk/hod.

Young dancers in a class of their own

A DANCE school is celebrating success after scoring an impressive 100 per cent pass rate in its latest round of challenging exams.

The Ballet Shoe Workshop, which has been running for 19 years, held its summer presentations to reward its pupils for their achievements at International Dance Teachers' Association tests in June.

Children from the age of 3 were entered in demonstrations of ballet, dance exercise and freestyle. In all, 158 exams were taken and every student passed with most attaining honours in at least one if not all subjects.

Alison Law, who runs the Hundon-based school, said: "All pupils have been working really hard and they all deserve the success they have achieved."

For the first time, the workshop also had pupils being entered for their majors, in the shape of Sophie Walker and Issy Proffitt, who both passed their freestyle student teacher exam with honours, and Harriet Reynolds who passed her pre-associate one exam in ballet.

The award ceremonies also saw the youngsters perform their class work for friends and family, before the awards and certificates were presented.

For more information on the classes contact Alison Law on 07821197107 or visit balletshoeworkshop@yahoo.co.uk.

Team's goal is healthier lives

HELP to lose weight, stop smoking and get fit is on offer from a new service in Haverhill.

A team of community health coaches will work in the town to give free advice on healthy eating, quitting smoking and increasing physical activity, as well as improving confidence and motivation to make changes.

The move comes after Live Well Suffolk was commissioned by NHS Suffolk and a consortium was provided.

A Spokesman for NHS Suffolk said: "Unhealthy lifestyle behaviour such as smoking, a poor diet and a lack of exercise cause a wide range of health problems that not only lead to years of discomfort and unhappiness but also cause higher rates of mortality than any other cause in Suffolk."

"NHS Suffolk has commissioned Live Well Suffolk to provide a range of programmes, initiatives and campaigns that will help the population understand the dangers of unhealthy lifestyles. For those who want to make a change – however big or small – we have programmes of help and support available."

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Coaches will work with clients to develop personal health plans and provide follow-up support on practical lifestyle improvements.

They will also provide a range of free, accessible, group-based activities starting next month, including cook-and-eat classes, breathing and relaxation sessions and light aerobics.

There will also be intensive one-to-one and group support to smokers to quit, seeing patients on a weekly basis with behavioural and pharmacological support.

This service will specialise in providing advice to clients who are finding it particularly hard to quit and those with increased need for support, such as pregnant women and those with mental health conditions.

An adult weight management service will be offered, called Fit Fans, a 12-week community based program which promotes healthy eating and an increase in physical activity to achieve weight loss.

The scheme is open to adults with a BMI over 30, or a BMI over 28 with medical co-morbidities. There is also a 12-week child weight management program called Alive N Kicking, available to people aged 2-18 who are overweight or obese.

In addition, there is a program of low-impact, guided walks and Live Well Suffolk also runs a Health Champion scheme in partnership with SAVO (Suffolk Association of Volunteer Organisations).

To find out more, to make a referral or to access a service, phone (01473) 229292 or email info@livewellsuffolk.org.uk.

Rape of children denied by man

CHARGES of rape and indecent assault of young boys have been denied by a 36-year-old man.

Benjamin Waldron of Strawberry Fields, Haverhill, indicated that he would be pleading not guilty to all the charges against him, when he appeared before Bury St Edmunds magistrates on Thursday, August 4.

The case against Waldron was sent to Ipswich Crown Court by magistrates and he was granted bail on condition that he does not contact witnesses involved in the case, and does not go to Stoke on Trent.

Waldron faces two charges of rape of a boy under 13 between May 2004 and December 2009 at Haverhill, two charges of indecent assault on a boy aged under 16 at Stoke on Trent between December 2003 and February 2004, one charge of assaulting a boy under 13 by touching between May 2004 and December 2004 at Haverhill and two more identical charges at Haverhill, one between December 2005 and December 2006 and another between December 2006 and December 2007.

A preliminary hearing will be held at Ipswich Crown Court on August 16 and the trial is due to take place between December this year and February next year. Magistrates made an order that the children involved in the case should not be identified.

Police hunt after youth 'flashes' car

A BOY ran off through a graveyard after exposing himself to a woman driving past a church.

The incident happened at Cemetery Road, Wickhambrook at around 7.55pm on Tuesday, August 2. Police are appealing for information after the boy jumped into the road in front of the woman's vehicle, exposed himself and then ran off.

The woman later saw the boy with a second youth outside the village's community centre. He is described as white, in his mid-teens, 5ft tall, of larger build with spiky brown hair and wearing a blue two-tone t-shirt, light grey jogging bottoms and black trainers.

The second boy is described as in his mid-teens, 5ft 2in tall, of slim build with blond spiky hair and wearing a white and grey T-shirt and grey bottoms.

Calls in relation to the incident should be made to PC Jane Mangnall at Haverhill Police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Radio epic in honour of pal

BY ADAM LUKE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A PAIR of 14-year-olds who have already completed a 30-hour marathon radio broadcast have now set their sights on a record-breaking 70-hour show.

Daniel Bell, of Bumpstead Road, Haverhill, and Callum Coleman, from Impington, completed the 30 hours on air in memory of Jessica Gower, who died in December from primary bone cancer, also aged 14.

Daniel went to school with Jess at Linton Village College and has been a keen supporter of the Teenage Cancer Trust and Bone Cancer Research since her death.

He said: "We did this for a good cause. We were doing it to raise awareness about the illness and to urge people to find out more about the charities and what they do."

"There was lots of chat and we got local people on – some who knew Jess and some who didn't – who wanted to talk."

Both lads managed to stay awake for the whole stint and completed the achievement together from a tent in Daniel's back garden, from 4pm on Wednesday, July 27, to 10pm the next day.

Daniel added: "It was really hard to keep going by the end but we managed it."

They hope to break the world record for the longest radio show when they go for 70 hours next summer, which they are keen to do on a new Haverhill FM station after campaigning for it over the past year.

B&Q set for big opening

NEW owners will re-open a DIY store tomorrow after saving some jobs for staff from the old store – and creating some new ones.

The former Focus DIY store in Haverhill is preparing to open its doors as B&Q after a month of team-bonding, store refitting and daily lorry deliveries of nearly 15,000 products.

The company has also built 16 display kitchens and installed 17 display bathroom suites to ensure the store opens with the best possible range of home improvement and garden products.

B&Q is the UK's largest home improvement and garden centre retailer and its recent acquisition in Haverhill has created 19 new jobs as well as maintaining 21 staff from the old store.

Manager Simon Phillips said: "The team, existing and new, are excited about the store opening and serving the local community. We've had a few weeks to get to know each other and we're really looking forward to meeting all our new customers."

"The new team spans several generations ranging in age from 17 to 70 – they may be different in age but they've got one thing in common – they're passionate about DIY and want to help make it easier for all our customers."

"We even have some employees who have worked at this site for decades under Great Mills, Focus DIY and now B&Q."

Get snapping for hospice - and work could go on show

BUDDING photographers are invited to enter a competition raising funds for charity.

The Gallery, in Haverhill, is calling for uplifting, beautiful or peaceful pictures to be used on the walls of St Nicholas Hospice Care's hospices across the region.

The winning entry – judged by a member of the hospice team and David Doughty, of The Gallery in Lower Downs Slade – will be enlarged, framed and presented to the charity, with the winner also receiving a framed version.

Entry is £2.50, and hopefuls can enter as many times as they like before the August 31 closing date. Send images, along with a cheque made out to D Doughty to cover the entry, to The Gallery, 1 Lower Downs Slade, Haverhill, Suffolk CB9 9HB. Email david@daviddoughty.co.uk.

The contest is The Gallery's contribution to the Towergate Accumulator Challenge, in which local businesses are competing to raise the most money for St Nicholas Hospice Care from a £50 stake.

Runner Jonas dreams of a gold medal after losing leg

Speeding up: Jonas has an average 100m time of under 13.5 seconds.

JONAS Zimnicki is a sportsman on a mission. With just under a year until the London Olympics begin and – with the 2012 games firmly in his sights, the sprinter is training hard. Every spare minute is spent in the gym or out on the track.

With an average 100m time under 13.5 seconds, it's amazing to think the 29-year-old only took up running a year ago. When you consider that Jonas is also an amputee – who runs with a prosthetic right leg – the feat becomes utterly awe-inspiring.

"I can still remember being in the rehab clinic with other amputees who felt, having lost a limb, their lives were over," reflects Jonas, who lives in Cambridge. "I've proved that's just not true. Losing any part of your body, like losing someone close to you, is a kind of bereavement. But there's no point getting bitter about it: with the right kind of support, you can go out there and do whatever you want – anything is possible."

Email: editorial@newsandcrier.co.uk

Paralympic talent scouts at a sporting open day last year, Jonas has been sprinting ever since and – thanks to expert coaching, a special running blade and his own unswerving dedication – his chances of making the games are rising all the time.

"I want to run for Britain as a way of saying thank you," explains Jonas who, born and raised in Lithuania, recently took British citizenship. "This country has given me a new start – this is my way of giving something back."

When Jonas arrived in the UK, in the autumn of 2004, he had only recently lost his leg, spoke no English, and had a debt to pay; his sister, Alicia, had loaned him £5,000 to pay for his first proper prosthetic limb.

Within a matter of months, Jonas had repaid the loan. In two years, he'd learned the language. In three years, he'd trained for and secured his dream job as a fitness instructor. And now, almost seven years on, he's aiming to represent Team GB at the 2012 Paralympics.

"I suppose I am proud, in a way," smiles Jonas. "But I think my parents would be more proud if I went home to the farm and started milking a few cows, to be honest."

Born to Polish parents, Jonas grew up in north-east Lithuania on the family farm. He was born with one leg significantly shorter than the other; by the time he stopped growing, around the age of 19, his right leg was some 25 cm shorter than the left.

"I still don't know why," reflects Jonas. "There were quite a few kids born like that in Eastern Europe in the early 1980s. It might have had something to do with Chernobyl, and there was a certain medication given to pregnant women that caused some problems."

"But my parents didn't want to think about it, really. I think they felt a bit, well, almost ashamed. Living in Eastern Europe at that time with a disabled child wasn't that easy."

For years Jonas used a very basic walking aid: a heavy contraption fashioned from wood, metals and leather straps. "I thought I was fine – I was working on the farm and had no real problems – but then my sister suggested seeing a specialist in Warsaw. The doctors there told me my foot was twisting and, if it was left, it would cause big problems with my knee, my hip, then my back.

"At first I thought they didn't know what they were talking about. So I went back home to the farm and carried on as before. But then I started thinking and realised that maybe they were talking sense, that I couldn't just leave it."

A two-hour operation, to remove the right foot and a 10cm length of calf, followed. "I remember coming round and not being able to feel the lower half of my body. That was a bit scary... And it was very painful. They were injecting morphine and stuff, but it wasn't working: I didn't sleep for five days and five nights. When my mum came to see me, after a month, she said I'd aged four or five years."

Eventually transferred to a rehab unit, Jonas, then aged 20, began to learn how to walk again. "I was very lucky, because I went to what is probably the best clinic in the whole country. But I was scared: scared I'd made the wrong decision and that I'd actually end up less able-bodied than I was before."

With the loan from Alicia, Jonas was able to buy a better quality – and considerably lighter – artificial limb. “It still took some getting used to. And I kept having to go back and have fittings: it takes a long time for the swelling in the stump to go down, so the socket kept having to be altered. The clinic was 600 miles away from home, a 12-hour journey, which didn’t help.

Home from home: Jonas in his adopted city of Cambridge – which he says he has fallen in love with.

“Then my sister and her boyfriend decided to buy an apartment and she said ‘I’m very sorry, I need the money back’, which was fair enough. And that’s the point when I decided to come here.”

Thanks to a cousin, who had already emigrated, Jonas was given both lodging and employment as soon as he arrived. “He got me a job washing dishes at a pub in Grantchester,” laughs Jonas. “He told them my English was OK, but all I could say was ‘Hi’ and ‘Bye’...”

“It was a bit strange to start with, but exciting too. I know what my parents’ life is like and, as an only son, working on the family farm, I could see my whole life stretching out before me, exactly the same as theirs. Then I came here and realised that, if I wanted to, I could lead a completely different life.”

Determined to repay his sister as swiftly as possible, Jonas soon took on a second job as a cleaner at Cambridge Regional College. “I’d clean at the college in the daytime, then work in the pub in the evening. I’d intended to stay in the UK for eight months. When the eight months were up, I’d repaid my sister and saved up a bit too: when you can’t speak the language it’s hard to spend money! So I decided to stay for a bit longer and learn English.

“I’d fallen in love with Cambridge: it’s beauty, the international population. It’s not quite like home, but there’s something special about it for me. These days I actually feel a bit like a tourist when I go home to Lithuania.”

A part-time English course at CRC followed: “I’d study from 9am until 1pm, then clean from 1pm until 7pm. I knew I didn’t want to be cleaning toilets forever and I’ve always been interested in fitness, so I asked the gym manager what qualifications I’d need to work there – and then I went away and got them.”

After passing his exams and working at the gym as a volunteer for a while, Jonas joined the staff; he’s now a full-time fitness and classes co-ordinator. “I love my job. Helping other people reach their own goals is great.”

Settling in central Cambridge, Jonas began looking for a sport to do in his spare time: for three years, he was a member of a wheelchair basketball squad. But it wasn’t until he went to the Paralympic talent-spotting event in Birmingham that he finally found his niche – on the running track.

“I’d seen all these emails saying the search was on to find Paralympic talent,” he explains. “So I decided to go to this open day. We tried all kinds of different sports – rowing, basketball, running – but I quickly decided to focus on the 100m and 200m; I’ve been training ever since.”

Jonas has a packed schedule. He has 13 training sessions a week, several of which take place down in London, where he’s coached alongside fellow Paralympic hopeful Johnny Peacock, of Chatteris, who lost a lower leg to meningitis.

Jonas also needs regular physio and deep-tissue massage; running with a prosthetic puts added strain on other areas of his body, particularly the lower back. “It takes 30 per cent more energy for an amputee to do something – even walking down the street – than someone able-bodied,” he explains.

Taking it all into account – treatments and travel expenses alone add up to £125 a week – training is proving an expensive business and Jonas is looking for a sponsor. “It would be amazing to get some sponsorship to help with the costs – and also to know that someone else really believes in me.”

Whatever happens, Jonas is determined not to give up. His aim is to get his 100m time down to a qualifying 12.2 seconds and make it into Team GB. “What keeps me going? I don’t look too far into the future,” Jonas concludes. “I stay in the here and now, in the moment – and I try to make the very most of it.”

Responders rush to double help call

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

COMMUNITY responders from Haverhill were twice called to emergencies while attending a promotional event in the town.

The lifesaving team were at the Big Bash on the Recreation Ground on July 31 when they were called for help.

They were first notified by a steward of a female who had collapsed at a house near to the Recreation Ground at 2pm.

Peter Russell and David Halsey grabbed their kit and sprinted into action, backed up by Colin Hartley in the ambulance from their stand.

On leaving the scene, following a paramedic's arrival, the team were then dispatched by control to another call on the other side of the town.

Afterwards they returned to the Big Bash and promoting the scheme.

Mr Halsey said the calls demonstrated the value of the service the responders provide for the town, and he hoped this might prompt others to join them.

He said: "Haverhill Community First Responders are in desperate need of more volunteers to allow them to provide an effective and excellent service to the community of Haverhill. This is an opportunity to learn a life-skill – be part of a team and save lives in your local community.

"Community First Responders are dispatched by the East of England Ambulance Service to category A calls (life threatening and serious) at the same time as an ambulance.

"Living within the community means we can often be on scene within minutes, and can assess the patient and begin lifesaving techniques to help increase the chances of the patient's survival.

"People from all walks of life can apply as a Community First Responder, and you will be trained by the ambulance service at no cost to yourself.

"All you are asked is to commit some time each month to be on call, this can be for as many hours or days each month, but every little helps."

Anyone who would like to know more should go to the Burton Centre, next to the Library, on Saturday August 20 between 9am and 11.30am, call David Halsey on (01440) 761090, or e-mail haverhillcfr@gmail.com.

Artists showcase talents

Volker Kühn

German artist Volker Kühn specialises in 3D wall pieces in box frames, which he calls Art in Boxes.

The Queen is Everywhere/Homage to Magritte is one of a series of limited-edition homages to famous artists – and has generated a lot of interest since it went on display in Byard Art a couple of weeks ago.

An evolving exhibition of original paintings, sculpture, mixed media artwork, limited-edition prints and photography by more than 50 artists, the Byard Art Summer Show continues until September in the gallery opposite King's College Chapel, Cambridge. Here are some of the artists to watch.

Dan Parry-Jones

The Bristol-based painter and illustrator's mixed media paintings have sparked comparisons with street artists like Banksy. He combines rough, original surface with repeatable figurative detailing using illustrative and screen printing techniques. He is fascinated by the theme of children and play, and looks at how resourceful and creative children can be when left to their devices.

Nicola Slattery

Nicola Slattery is well known for her distinct figurative style. She has exhibited across the UK and abroad and had work featured on TV and with leading national art magazines. Recent paintings have been included in several art books.

Her style and approach has influenced many other artists and her work can be found in corporate, public and private collections around the world.

The art critic Sister Wendy Beckett, a prolific writer and broadcaster on the visual arts, described Nicola's work as "magical art: pure, humorous and strong."

Jason Lilley

According to one art critic, the Cornish-born painter's works "engender a discourse between his own reaction to the physical, political and spiritual condition of his native county, and the perceptions of those who now claim the county as their own". Working increasingly in oil, Lilley's paintings offer a highly individual interpretation of the familiar roofs, streets and coastline around St Ives in Cornwall.

CAMBRIDGE Shakespeare Festival unveil a new programme of plays for August, set in some of the most beautiful university college gardens. Settle down with a picnic and enjoy an old favourite, or try one you've never seen before.

Either way, remember a jumper and blanket – it might be a balmy evening, but once the sun goes in it gets pretty chilly!

Much Ado About Nothing

The feisty battle of wits between Beatrice and Benedick – two headstrong individuals who, despite their protesting, seem destined to be together – is played out in the stunning gardens of King's College this month.

Vowing never to marry, the pair are caught up in a web of trickery by their friends who attempt to bring them together. Meanwhile, Claudio and Hero fall for each other at first sight, until their innocent love is threatened by another, more troubling scheme.

Much Ado is one of the few in the Shakespeare canon where the majority of the text is written in prose. And the 'nothing' of the title can be read as a double meaning for 'noting' – ie gossip.

Romeo and Juliet

We all know the story of the star-crossed lovers, caught up in their parents' ancient feud, but have you seen it performed outdoors in the lovely woodlands of Girton College?

Here, the lovers' innocent but doomed romance is played out beneath the stars in what should be a heart-wrenching and memorable performance.

Macbeth

As dusk turns to dawn in Trinity College Gardens, witness the weird and wondrous events which lead to Macbeth's dramatic downfall in this traditional performance of The Scottish Play.

Told he is destined to be king by a trio of witches, Macbeth welcomes King Duncan into his home where a dastardly chain of bloody events unfolds.

Written between 1603 and 1607, around the time of the Gunpowder Plot, Macbeth was seen as a celebration of the Stuart dynasty.

Apparently King James I believed himself to be a descendant of the real Banquo, whose existence is recorded in Holinshed's Chronicles – a history of Britain published in 1587 (although this Banquo seems to have been less noble than his fictional counterpart, being recorded as an accomplice to a king's murder rather than a loyal subject.)

All's Well That Ends Well

Despite such an optimistic title, the loose ends of this 'problem play' aren't all necessarily rounded-up by the curtain call.

Following the fortunes of Helena, an orphan and ward of the Countess of Rousillon, as she attempts to win the heart of the man she love, All's Well That Ends Well is full of comic moments but, like The Taming of the Shrew, is up to the company – and the audience – to interpret.

The barriers of birth and rank, as well as her lover, Count Bertram's indifference, prevent Helena's fairytale going quite the way she'd planned.

But her quick wit and loyal friends help her fulfil the requirements of Bertram's seemingly impossible ultimatum which will lead to them being united as man and wife.

All's Well is performed in the gardens at Robinson College.

Taste of Garlic for kids

GARLIC Theatre bring Fiddlesticks to the Haverhill Arts Centre on Tuesday August 16 at 11am. It's a spellbinding tale of rhythmical twists and turns with a lively blend of clowning, puppets and live music which lasts for 55 minutes and is suitable for ages four and over. Sam Tucker will be holding a character acting drama workshop suitable for 8-plus years on the same day from 2.30pm to 4.30pm. Aimed at developing the ability to play more challenging characters, the two-hour session will teach techniques to create larger-than-life characters. The workshop will culminate in performing a series of scripted scenes based on the popular Shrek films, now a successful show. The Haverhill & District Flower Club will run their annual flower show on August 19 and 20. Over to cinema: on Monday August 15 at 1.30pm the centre is showing are showing My Dog Tulip (12A), an animated feature for adults, while that evening at 7.45pm Reel Culture film Potiche (15), starring Gerard Depardieu and Catherine Deneuve, is screened. And on Tuesday August 16, Mel Gibson and Jodie Foster star in The Beaver (12A). ## The big film

MR POPPER'S PENGUINS

certificate PG 94m

BASED on the children's book by Richard and Florence Atwater, Mr Popper's Penguins is a cutesy tale of errant fathers, emotionally damaged offspring and feathered friends, whose fates collide in New York City. A Christmas release would have better suited Mark Waters's whimsical confection, when the lashings of sticky sweet sentiment are easier to swallow, and the chill outside mirrors the swathes of snow and ice on the big screen.

Like the birds at the film's emotional core, Jim Carrey has become a workaholic real estate developer. In order to secure promotion, Thomas must persuade Mrs Van Gundy (Angela Lansbury) to sell the Tavern On The Green restaurant in Central Park. She rebuffs his pitch, determined to sell the historic property to a person of worth. While he attempts to close the deal, Thomas receives his inheritance from his late father: six Gentoo penguins, Antarctica using a CB radio and the handles Tippytoes and Bald Eagle.

Fast forward to the present day and Thomas (Jim Carrey) has become a workaholic real estate developer.

In order to secure promotion, Thomas must persuade Mrs Van Gundy (Angela Lansbury) to sell the Tavern On The Green restaurant in Central Park. She rebuffs his pitch, determined to sell the historic property to a person of worth. While he attempts to close the deal, Thomas receives his inheritance from his late father: six Gentoo penguins, which take over his life and rebuild bridges with ex-wife Amanda (Carla Gugino) and children.

Mr Popper's Penguins is a saccharine family-oriented comedy, which hammers home the central message about parental responsibility and love triumphing over adversity.

Carrey reins in his usual mugging and is completely upstaged by the real and digitally rendered birds, who wreak havoc at a swanky party in the Guggenheim museum with its sloping spiral walkway.

Greens and pleasant land

THE Open Championship has ended – but work continues to ensure the green and the fairways remain in tip top condition.

Graham Royden, head greenkeeper at Royal St George's in Kent, where the famous golf competition is held, says that gardeners can work towards making their grass look as good as his.

"The big difference between the course here at Royal St George's and garden lawns is that we use a different type of grass seed and spend literally hundreds of hours tending the turf. But, that said, a few simple tips can help any gardener achieve almost perfect results," he adds.

"The thing not to do is attempt to keep the grass as short as we do here on the course. I support the concept among domestic gardeners of keeping an area of grass either uncut during the season or at least left longer for the benefit of wildlife."

Royden and his team, who work around the clock to ensure that the famous course is in top condition for the event, have a fleet of grass-cutting machines and equipment which includes more than 20 mowers, tractors, scarifiers and other equipment.

But regular gardeners won't need such a wealth of machinery. Royden says there are five key elements to ensuring a brilliant lawn.

by Hannah Stephenson

■ Cut little and often: never take off more than a third of the grass blade length as this will damage the plant. In dry weather, reduce the frequency of cut, raise the mower height and consider leaving the cuttings on the lawn to help feed and shade the grass.

■ Watering: watering domestic lawns is a far more contentious issue and depends on local water availability and any restriction notices that may be in force. Royden says that keeping moisture in the soil profile on a golf course is vitally important.

■ Feeding: the grass at Royal St George's is largely fed by an entirely natural product and Royden is a keen advocate of environmentally-safe feeding. He recommends three feeds a year: spring (March to April), summer and autumn (September to October). It's important to ensure that, when using proprietary feeds, you use them according to the season as the balance of nutrients for a spring feed is entirely different to that needed in the summer or autumn.

■ Aeration: aeration is vitally important because it allows light, moisture and air to reach the growing roots of the grass. A normal garden fork dug into the lawn to a depth of about 10cm (4in) and about 15cm (6in) apart is ideal, although hollowed tined forks can also be used. He suggests that the best time for this is in March and again in October.

■ Scarifying: he says that scarifying – combing the grass to remove dead plants and thatch – with a spring-tine rake or a powered electric or petrol scarifier should be done twice a year; April or May and again in September or October to encourage new grass growth, and this can be achieved either by hand with a spring rake or using a powered machine.

Of course, in the hands of the skilled greenkeeper a roller does useful work – but to use it successfully you need to have an already smooth lawn. Be warned that rollers won't iron out the bumps, but will often make matters worse by depressing the hollows even further, impeding drainage and reducing the air space which is vital for healthy grass roots.

If your grass is in good condition, use a roller in spring when the surface is dry and the soil is damp. Alternatively, choose a good quality rotary mower with a roller which will give you stripes, providing you mow the lawn up and down alternately.

ONE MAN WENT TO MOW: Royal St George's head greenkeeper Graham Royden advises that no more than a third of the grass blade length is taken off at any one time.

Evoque is Car of the Year

THE Range Rover Evoque has been crowned Auto Express Car of the Year 2011.

The top buys in 18 classes of the new car market were chosen by Auto Express' expert panel, and were judged on fuel efficiency, driver appeal, practicality and reliability.

The judges felt that the British-built Evoque – chosen as the Best Compact SUV – was the most impressive new car of the past 12 months.

Graham Hope, acting editor of Auto Express, said: "The Range Rover Evoque truly looks set to define a desirable new sector of the market on its own."

"This talented machine brings a much loved premium brand within reach of a wider audience than ever before, and marks a brave departure from its maker's traditional strengths."

"It's great to see that this year's winner was designed, engineered and built in Britain."

The full list of winners is:

AJN Steelstock Limited

We are a medium sized steel stock holder based near Newmarket. We are currently selling around 40,000 tons of steel per annum, of which around 20,000 tons is shotblasted, painted, cut to size and drilled. We deliver throughout East Anglia. Due to expansion we have the following vacancies:

Sales Person

We are looking for an experienced sales person to join our highly experienced sales team selling general mild steels, processing and plasma cutting to industry.

You will form an integral part of one of our sales teams and share the responsibility of maximising the tonnage and margin generated in your area. You will be expected to process in the region of 20-24 tons of orders per day, eventually bringing your own portfolio of customers up to this level.

You will be provided with a car plus fuel and mobile phone. Your salary will be dependant on your experience.

Sales Administrator

We are looking for an individual to assist our sales teams with processing cutting enquiries, answering the telephone, filing and other general office duties.

Experience of computers (i.e. word processing etc) is essential, training in other areas will be provided as required. Your salary will be dependant upon your experience.

Fabricator/Welder

Experience of fabricating is essential. You must be able/capable of reading/working from drawings, working to customer driven time constraints. A counterbalance forklift/combilift licence is advantageous, although full training will be provided.

Additionally you will also be required to use various other pieces of machinery (mag drills, punching machines etc), although full training will be provided, a good all round engineering background would be useful.

Working hours will be 08.00 to 16.30 with overtime available as required.

Shotblasting Machine Operator

You will be operating and performing routine maintenance on our semi-automated shotblast and painting machine on our evening shift. A counterbalance forklift/combilift licence and experience in shotblasting would be advantageous, although full training will be given.

Working hours will be 16.00 to 24.00 with overtime available as required.

Crane/Combilift Operator

Your work will consist of the unloading of bundles of steel from lorries, "putting up" said bundles in racking under the crane and subsequently "pulling" bundles from under crane for racking in the picking shed. Additionally you will be required to "pick" orders from the steel racks.

As always a counterbalance forklift/combilift licence and crane licence is advantageous, although full training will be provided.

Working hours will be 08.00 to 16.30 with overtime available as required.

In all instances salary is negotiable, subject to experience/qualifications.

Strictly NO agencies.

Elektron Technology plc R&D develops technical products for a wide range of technology companies in the Elektron Group, from high volume electrical/electronic components to specialised instrumentation equipment in high technology sectors.

Working as an Electronic Engineer for Elektron Technology plc is a unique opportunity for self-motivated, enthusiastic and flexible engineers to join Elektron's new Cambridge based R&D centre. Successful candidates will be expected to contribute to a wide range of demanding technology and product development projects and immediately engage into a commercially driven and multi-disciplinary team. The positions will involve taking technical roles within development projects with exposure to all aspects of development from conceptualisation through to product release.

Principal Electronic Engineer

CA/PE01

Working in a technical / project management role, you will take a systems engineering approach to the design of multi-discipline projects to realise technical solutions.

Responsibilities

- Project Management
- Task Management
- Circuit design including power, analogue, digital and microcontroller circuits
- Cost sensitive component selection and sourcing
- Embedded system design including microprocessors / DSP / FPGA etc
- Schematic capture and PCB layout
- Construction of prototypes for evaluation and validation
- Working with and coordinating external test houses and suppliers
- Preparation of schematics, parts lists, and other documentation
- Design and write Application software
- Definition of technical solutions for product developments

Experience and minimum requirements:

- Good degree in a relevant engineering subject
- Substantial electronic design experience and a track record of innovation in analogue and digital electronics design
- Knowledge of power electronics, analogue circuits and microprocessors
- Demonstrable experience in writing embedded software, particularly on PIC microcontrollers
- Designing to comply with specifications and all relevant standards
- Working knowledge of EMC / LVD testing
- Knowledge of design for high volume manufacture
- Able to work to customer specifications and deadlines
- A self starter, well motivated and enthusiastic with creative problem solving skills
- Able to communicate and interact effectively with customers, management and other team members

Senior Electronic Engineer

Luke keeps up run

Court in the act: The semi-final line-up in the under-12 age group. From left, Thomas Addison, Freddie Holmes, Greg Birch and Andreas Kitsis.

THERE was plenty of high-quality action at Haverhill Tennis Club's junior open championships.

Following on from his success in the club tournament the previous week, Luke Marsh won his second consecutive competition with success in the under-eight age group.

He beat Connor Webb 13-11 in the final after a closely fought and exciting match.

The under-nine orange ball event featured more extremely close matches, with nine players from Haverhill, Newmarket and Bury St Edmunds.

Alex Swarbrick was the star of this age group and he was too strong for Thomas Parrett in the final, winning 7-2, 7-2. Keri Tobin and Georgia Parker finished third and fourth respectively.

In the doubles event, Parrett and Tobin proved a successful partnership, winning the competition with a 7-4, 7-4 win over James Iron and Gokhan Salman.

Freddy Holmes beat the Nos 2 and 3 seeds on his way to the final of the under-12 tournament but ran out of steam against top seed Greg Birch.

The No 1 player won a high-quality final 4-2, 4-2.

In the under-14 age group, Aaron Thorne came through some tough matches in the group stage, including a three-hour encounter against Cameron Larkin.

The pair both qualified for the semi-finals and, after winning their respective matches, faced each other in the final.

This time the match was a much shorter affair though, with Thorne coming through 6-2, 6-4.

Dellar's runs key to win

Phillips (3 for 34), Ben Wilkins (2 for 18) and Joey Kettle (2 for 26).

Haverhill opener Liam Botten set up the reply with a fine 53 and, after a few alarms, Kettle and Graham Brandeys took Haverhill to their target in the 34th over.

■ Sawston clinched the Adams Harrison Midweek League title with a comfortable win over Weston Colville.

Colville made 94 in their 20 overs, with Peter Bragg scoring 34.

Sawston scored the required total in the 14th over to claim their second title in three years.

&gt;&gt; Youth football

Warnock is at the double

West Wrattling 3 Notley FC 2

Under-16 friendly

A SECOND-HALF fightback saw Wrattling earn an impressive victory.

Playing against the breeze, the Reds found themselves under pressure from their Colchester A League opponents in the early stages, and were one down after 17 minutes.

Just when Wrattling started to get a foothold, a Notley counter-attack and some indecisive defending resulted in a goal to make it 2-0 at half time.

The Reds started the second half brightly, with Jolland and Warnock creating mayhem down the left.

Free had already had a couple of mazy runs when he set off on another and rasped a drive that the keeper did well to parry, but Warnock followed up to make it 2-1.

A quick free kick then found Jolland, who slipped his marker and planted a beauty in the bottom right-hand corner.

The game was settled with a goal of real quality. Man-of-the-match Free exchanged passes with Jolland, who slipped it to Willett. He in turn found Warnock at the edge of the box, and he hit a super strike into the roof of the net to complete the comeback.

Kedington Youth 4 West Wrattling 0

Under-14 friendly

IT was not until late in the first period that Kedington finally broke the deadlock, when Jack Trowbridge stormed down the right wing and crossed deep into the box for Owen Boddey, who saw his shot blocked, but Steve Boyles reacted quickly to set up Ellis Wiffen to score.

Trowbridge was instrumental in Kedington's second goal, his whipped-in corner being met by captain Jason Moore, whose goal-bound header was deflected upwards for Sam Street to out-jump the goalkeeper and head home.

The third came when a Lewis Head, cross found Cameron Larkin, who cushioned the ball back to Moore, who rounded two defenders before striking low into the goal.

Wiffen's second, converting a perfect pass from Conor Rankin, completed the scoring.

Chandler gets on the podium

BRIAN Chandler took his best result of the season so far in the Mazda MX5 Championship when he finished second at Snetterton.

The Haverhill driver took his place on the podium after the second of two races, having previously finished fifth in race one.

Chandler moved up to third place by the first corner of race two and, despite slipping down to fourth on the third lap, he was still in touch with the leaders.

The third-placed driver was forced to retire because of gearbox failure, promoting Chandler back into third.

With five laps remaining, the race leader was awarded a drive-through penalty for cutting a corner, which meant Chandler crossed the finish line in second place.

There was more drama to come after the race when Chandler's car was scrutinised and the engine stripped down to make sure it did not break any rules.

Fortunately for Chandler the officials found no infringements, so he can now look forward to returning to Brands Hatch for more testing in preparation for the next race.

ADAM Dellar's 60 set up Haverhill for a 18-run win against Ipswich in the Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship, Division One.

The home side won the toss and, with usual skipper Simon Youngs absent, Chris Silverwood decided to bat. Sam Powell and Bill Moran opened up and looked comfortable until ex-Zimbabwe Test player Doug Hondo had Moran (12) trapped in front.

Dellar was next in and a huge turning point came when visiting keeper Reed dropped him without a run to his name.

Powell and Dellar then pushed the score past 50 until an error in judgment saw Powell (32) leave a Hondo delivery that bowled him.

Luke Youngs joined Dellar and the two of them played sensibly, with Dellar growing in confidence and picking off anything loose.

But just when it seemed he might take the game away from Ipswich, he was caught behind off Hondo for a fine 60.

Dave Brown and Dan Poole both came and went as Haverhill were now 151 for 5 off 40 overs. Youngs was joined by Scott Webb and together they pushed the run-rate up before Youngs (42) was caught on the boundary.

Silverwood and Webb pushed the score to 209 for 7 before Webb (27) was out to the last ball. Silverwood made 18 not out, while Hondo took 4 for 41.

The visitors started reasonably well but chief run-maker Rusby (14) was caught behind off Raj Singh.

A good partnership followed, which

Dellar's knock secures a much-needed victory was broken by Joe Woodley, and wickets fell regularly after that.

A cameo innings from Hondo seemed to be putting the game back in favour of the visitors, but the returning Silverwood's cleverly disguised slower ball clean bowled him for 28 as Ipswich came up short on 191 for 9.

■ Haverhill seconds are still in the promotion picture, despite losing to leaders Tuddenham by just eight runs in Division Six.

Things started well as Carter (4) was taken by Liam Savage at slip off Rob Ketteridge's fourth delivery, and soon Tuddenham were 38 for 2 as Titcombe (12) chopped a Steve Fox delivery on to his stumps.

The hard-hitting Smith should have felled shortly afterwards but a simple catch was dropped and this proved expensive as he went on to make 83.

An unbroken partnership of 90 between the classy Cross (46no) and Pryke (48) then took the home total to a challenging 228 for 4.

With a short boundary on one side, Haverhill felt the total was gettable with some sensible batting. It certainly looked that way as Sam Hartshorn (36) and Phil Jones (30) put on 76 runs in good time before Hartshorn was caught in the deep.

Jones and Greg Street soon followed, before Savage (43) and Fox (18) steadied the ship in a partnership of 51.

Jason Ketteridge chipped in with 17, and teenagers Dan Pass and Ben Wilkins then put on 41 together.

With 20 needed off the last three overs, Pass was caught on the boundary for a mature 15. Wilkins was stumped for 23 in the last over with the score on 217 for 9, leaving 12 needed from five balls, but Phil Dingley was stumped off the fifth ball and a valiant effort was thwarted at the last.

■ Luke Youngs hit his maiden century on Sunday as Haverhill thrashed Acton by 128 runs in the Hunts County Bats Sunday League Opener Youngs made 127, despite an hour's rain break in mid-innings, with Liam Savage hitting an unbeaten 56 and Sam Hartshorn 36 as Haverhill totalled an imposing 274 for 3.

Acton's openers started promisingly, and their side were up with the rate until the 19th over. But Steve Fox and Sam

Bligh on high after win

Victory for Vince: Haverhill's Chris Vince with the Suffolk Junior Championship trophy.

CP

JACK Bligh was in superb form as he took a four-shot victory in the R Brown Cup at Haverhill Golf Club.

A field of 38 took part in the 36-hole medal event and Bligh won with a very impressive nett score of 131, having returned rounds of 64 and 67.

Second was Dan Wilkins (68+67=135), with junior Richard Boyles third (67+70=137) and Ed Baker fourth (71+67=138).

■ Chris Vince took the honours at the Suffolk Junior (U18) Championship at Gorleston Golf Club. With two very consistent rounds of 71 and 72 for a 143 total, the three-handicapper won with a nett 137.

■ Haverhill junior Joshua Hulyer won the regional UK Kids Qualifier 2011 for his age group at Stonham Barns with a score of 36pts. Eight year old Joshua is one of six juniors to represent different age groups who will go on to play in the UK finals, the date and venue to be decided.

■ Lady captain Marian Mercer won the Ladies' Medal by a commanding eight shots with a round of 96-26=70. As a result, she has had her handicap cut by one shot to 25. In second place was Doreen Crosbee with 97-19=78, with Doreen Darbey third with 106-26=80.

Jane Herrington had a runaway victory in the Saturday Medal with a fabulous round of 97-32=65, which was seven shots clear of her nearest rival Gerrie Wheatley with 94-22=72. Third was Catie Heathfield (96-23=73). Herrington's handicap has been cut by four shots to 28.

■ Alice Iron became the first girl to win the morning 18-hole medal competition on Junior Captain's Day. She fired a nett score of 65 to take the win ahead of Hayden Durrant, who was second on 66, beating Mitchell Davis into third on countback.

Iron also won the Abu Dhabi competition (lowest gross) for the girls with 101, with Michael Perrett (78) the boys' winner. The 18-hole morning stableford competition was won by Louis Martin with 40pts on countback from Joshua Hulyer.

Winning the 36-hole stableford competition was Ben Bradnam with 71pts overall, with Edward Halpin second with 57.

Perrett and Durrant shared the Captain's Day Cup, a 36-hole medal competition, having both totalled 133.

Andy Martin, from the junior committee, organised the day's event and thanked all participants, parents and staff for making the day such a success and for supporting junior captain Richard Boyles.

■ Bad weather meant a reduced field of only 11 for the men's Stableford, and winner Alan O'Donoghue scored a very commendable 39pts and has had his handicap reduced by one shot. In second place was Keith Whitfield with 38pts, with Luke Williams third with 37pts.

■ Richard Mansfield claimed the R Woolmer Greens Trophy, a medal competition played off a handicap limit of 18.

Mansfield's round of 79-15=64 saw his handicap trimmed by two shots to 13 and beat Trevor Broomfield (81-15=66) into second. Mick Harrington was third on 84-16=68. Broomfield reduced his handicap to 13, and Harrington's was cut by one shot to 15.

Peter Betts: The Haverhill manager is targeting a good start to the season.

Rovers one of 10 teams in title hunt – Betts

PETER Betts believes this year's Ridgeons League Premier Division campaign will be one of the most open for years.

His Haverhill Rovers side threatened to break into the top three last season before eventually finishing in eighth place, and he has high hopes of another top-10 finish.

"There are about 10 teams who could win this league if they get a good start," he said.

"I would make Wisbech slight favourites, but there are so many good teams like Wroxham, Midlenhall and Norwich United. I'd include us in that list of 10. If we get a good start I think we could maintain it."

Dalton O'Brien, Rovers' top scorer last season, has left the club along with keeper Matt Morrison, but Betts has otherwise managed to hold on to the rest of his squad.

Among the newcomers is keeper Alex Archer, who joins on loan from Peterborough United, and Betts believes he has a stronger squad to cope with the rigours of Ridgeons League football.

"We've worked hard over the course of pre-season to add strength in depth," he said.

"We've got good options in centre midfield and I'm hoping to add another striker to give us more up front."

Rovers start their campaign away to Gorleston on Saturday (3pm), and host Walsham Le Willows next Tuesday (7.45pm).
